Rector's Welcome Address

Assalamu'alaikum warahmatullah wabarakatuh

Best wishes to all of us.

Welcome the keynote speakers, speakers, and participants to the 2nd International Conference of Social Sciences and Education at the Yogyakarta State University 2018.

This conference is conducted as part of our commitment to perform Tri Dharma Perguruan Tinggi (the university's three main responsibilities) by contributing to education, research and community service. As a concrete realization of this commitment, Yogyakarta State University has organized 28 international conferences throughout this year under various themes and topics. The 2nd ICSSSED 2018 is one of the international conferences that we have well-planned.

The 2nd ICSSSED 2018 is conducted to address the increasingly significant role of digital media in community life today. Digital media no longer becomes a complementary need, but it has been a primary need for humans. We are unaware that we are now dependent on digital media. Moreover, digital media is entering and changing our social and cultural structures, especially in Indonesia. To discuss this phenomenon, 2nd ICSSSED takes the theme of Digital Social Sciences, Humanities, and Education as an effort to address the challenges that we face today and in the future.

The implementation of this conference also reflects our efforts to participate in the development of science, especially around the development of information and communication technologies and their implications for society. We hope that all the papers presented in this conference can be a medium to open our insights to the phenomena that occur in the community while trying to find solutions to various problems that arise from the development of information and communication technology.

Finally, I would like to thank all parties who have helped support and succeed this program. Without a great commitment to UNY's vision and mission, this conference will not work optimally. I wish you all a productive and enjoyable conference. Hopefully, what we do now can be beneficial for all Indonesian people and the world.

Dean's Welcome Address

Assalamu'alaikum warahmatullah wabarakatuh

Best wishes to all of us.

Welcome all speakers and participants who participate the 2nd ICSSSED 2018. Thank you for your participation in this international conference held by the Faculty of Social Sciences, Yogyakarta State University.

Ladies and gentlemen, the development of digital technology has brought us to a new world which differ from that of decades ago. Technology has revolutionized the way we interact and communicate in a relatively short time. It seems that just a few years ago we sent letters via postal services, now we send electronic mail utilizing digital devices that almost never get out of our grasp.

The development of communication technology enables us to create and share opinions and thoughts with the world easily. Various limitations in communication that we had met a few years ago seems no longer exist today due to the digitization of the way we communicate.

However, the rapid development of information and communication technology has possibly created new problems. In fact, not everyone can adapt to the rapidly developing technology easily. The illiteracy to deal with these changes raises a number of problems, especially related to how to sort out, accept, and respond to the information that flows swiftly.

I hope the 2nd ICSSSED can be a place for us to share our thoughts on various issues that arise as an effort to anticipate illiteracy over the dramatic changes in the way we communicate. Also, we expect that this international conference may produce new and revolutionary works that can enrich our understanding of the phenomena on the digital world and its implications for social life.

Finally, I would like to thank all parties who helped running this program. Hopefully, all the time and efforts we have spent for the 2nd ICSSSED may be beneficial.

Committee Report

Dear Excellencies, Rector of Universitas Negeri Yogyakarta, invited speakers, distinguished guests, dear colleagues, ladies and gentlemen.

It is a true pleasure for me to welcome you to The 2nd International Conference of Social Sciences and Education, in Universitas Negeri Yogyakarta. It is also an honor for us to welcome all invited speakers and speakers from various background including business, social sciences, and education, that also represent different universities in international level.

Our conference theme, that is “Digital Social Sciences, Humanities, and Education”, is timely and important. It reflects contemporary issues on how digital media shapes our social and cultural daily life.

Today the world is facing a digital revolution characterized by the omnipresence of digital technology in various lines of life so that dramatically change the way people live. For years scientists keep their attention into the hardware and software of technology shift however recently it is realized that the most important locus is people and society. The technology introduced to change the way of life but how it will driven is completely depend on the human being wise. So that the discussion about digital culture/humanities, social science and education are growing rapidly this decade.

Active participation from 4 invited speakers, 95 presenters, and 125 participants reflect this growing study and discussion on digital media in the field of social sciences, humanities, and education. They will be organized into 10 panel sessions to facilitate focus presentations and stimulate critical discussions. And, more than just presentations and discussions, articles from the presenter will be published in Scopus indexes proceeding, international journals and national accredited journals.

I wish you a most fruitful day with interesting and stimulating discussions and exchange of knowledge Enjoy your participation in the 2nd ICSSSED and memorable time visiting Universitas Negeri Yogyakarta.
